

The 'Let's Tell A Story' Book

By Hilary Thompson

Introduction

The idea for this E book came from my learning how to remove portions of a photograph and then put them into another image creating a picture story.

As a keen amateur photographer, this has become another excuse to take photos and has allowed me to create a new art form for myself.

All of the background pictures in this book started life as a photograph taken near my home in the Adelaide Hills region of South Australia.

Most of the characters in the pictures are from my photos and some come from a wonderful website called Pixabay, where photographers can swap and use images without any copyright restrictions and a few are courtesy of ClipArt.

This E book is designed to give children the opportunity to use their imagination by creating a story from each of the pictures. Each picture tells many stories; they are only limited by your imagination.

There are other fun things you can do with these pictures.

For example: you can count the bugs, find the 'Cocky' (there is at least one Sulphur Crest Cockatoo in each picture), name the flower, or find the ghosts. What else can you find?

If you look really hard you will find my Devon Rex cat 'Gwyn'.

He insisted that he be included in the book. He hates to be left out of anything!

Hilary Thompson

South Australia 2015

The Rotunda
Elder Park
Adelaide

Belair Station
South Australia

Blackwood Forest
South Australia

Mount Lofty Gardens
South Australia

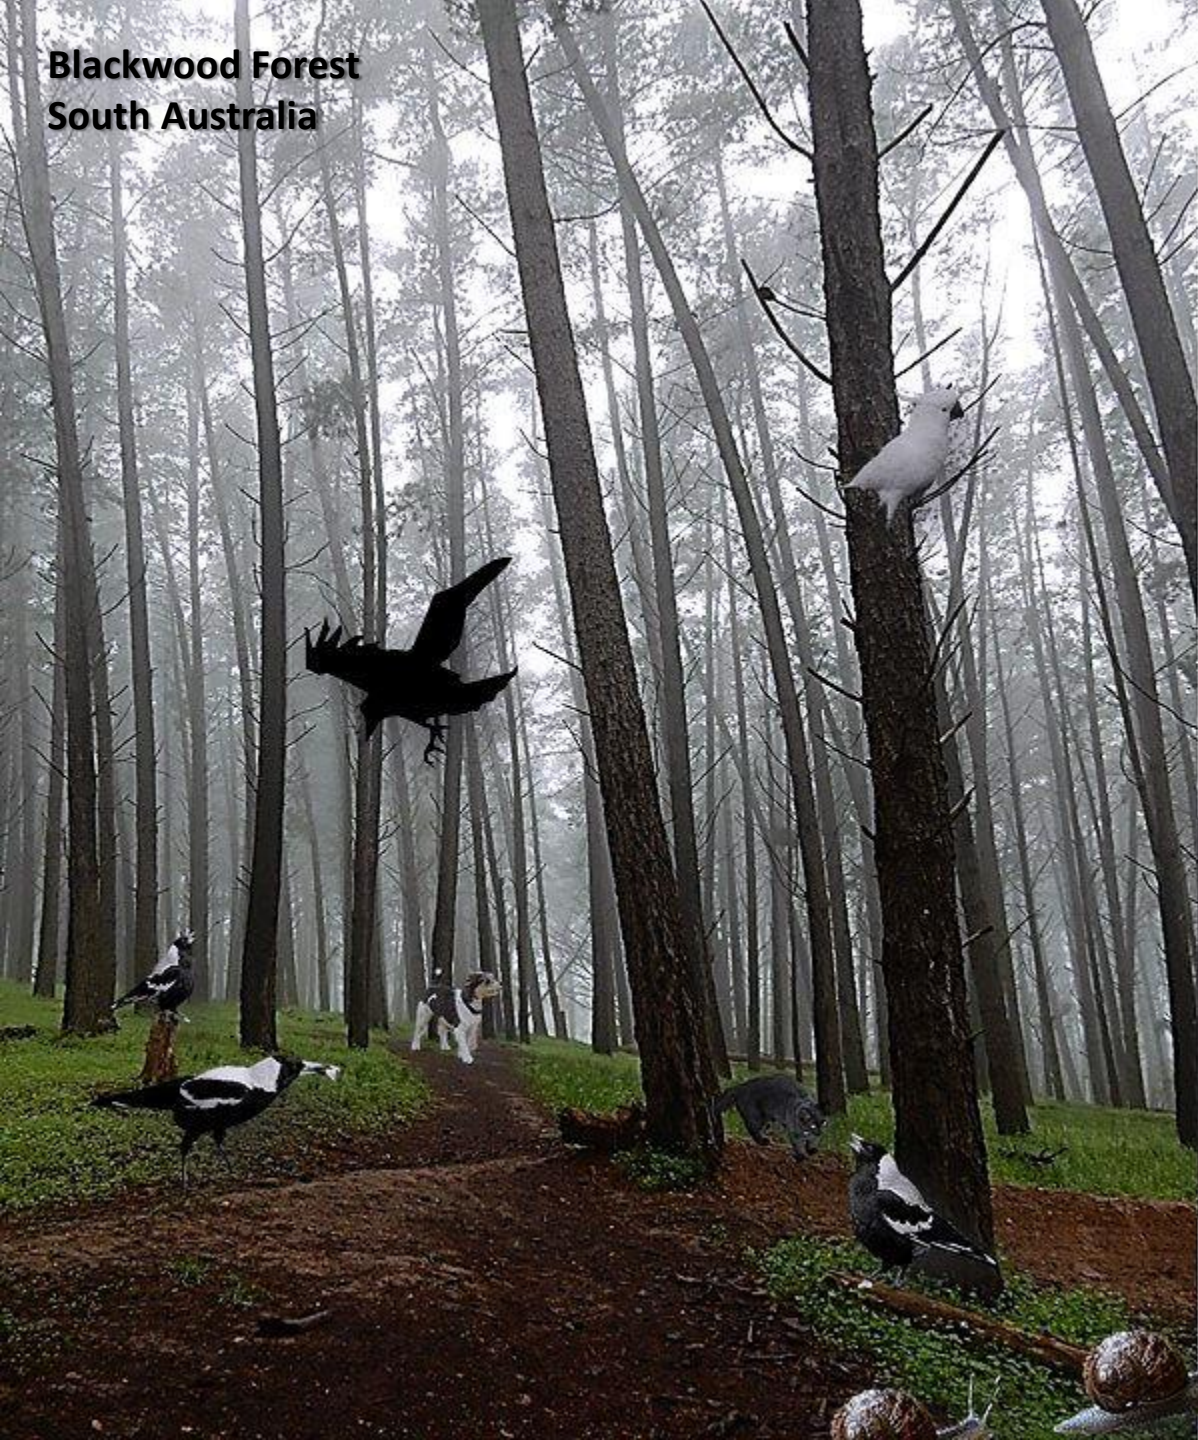

Belair National Park
South Australia

Blackwood Forest
South Australia

Hallett Cove Beach
South Australia

Blackwood Forest
South Australia

Inside the hull of the Clipper Ship
'City of Adelaide' South Australia

Brighton
South Australia

Carrick Hill
South Australia

